DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1-8 are objected to because of the following informalities: Claims 1 and 7-8 recite “one information processing apparatus” and “other information processing apparatuses”. Examiner recommends changing to “first information processing apparatus” and “second information processing apparatus” to avoid confusion. Appropriate correction is required. Claims 2-6 are objected because they incorporate claim 1’s limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 2 recites “the other information processing apparatuses have no the configuration after starting the notification”; which is ambiguous in defining the scope of the claimed limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Art Unit: 2111

5. Claims 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 11-12 claim a computer signal embodied in a carrier wave, which is non-statutory subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1 and 3-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Iwamura (U.S. Patent No. 5,883,621).

Referring to claims 1 and 9: Iwamura discloses a bus system to support video image (figure 1), and Iwamura discloses the bus device initialization (figure 3). Iwamura discloses an inquiry device for making an inquiry about whether the other information processing apparatuses have the function of transmitting/receiving the information, and a notification device for starting the notification upon confirmation by the inquiry by the inquiry device that the other information processing apparatuses have the function (column 5, lines 44-52). Thus, claim is anticipated by Iwamura.

Referring to claims 3 and 10: Iwamura discloses a bus system to support video image (figure 1), and Iwamura discloses the bus device initialization (figure 3). Iwamura discloses a confirmation device for confirming whether the connection of a transmission path of the information is established between the other information processing apparatuses and the one information processing apparatus; and a notification device for starting the notification upon confirmation by the confirmation device that the connection is established (column 5, lines 44-52). Thus, claim is anticipated by Iwamura.

Referring to claim 4: Iwamura discloses a display device connected with a DVD player or a digital VCR via a receiver decoder (figure 1). The display will response only upon receiver decoder's request when the DVD player or digital VCR transmits the data to receiver decoder.

Referring to claims 5-6: Iwamura discloses a display device (figure 6) and Iwamura's initialization switches the devices to the on state.

Referring to claims 7-8: Iwamura discloses IEEE 1394 (abstract).
